

Jessica Hondermann Gómez, Lawyer from the Pontifical Catholic University of Peru and graduated from the master's degree in Competition Law and Intellectual Property from the same House of Studies.

She has specialized studies at the Complutense University of Madrid (Spain) and owns a certification as "Data Protection Expert" granted by the Institute of Audit & IT – Governance (Spain) and Pacifico University Business School.

Jessica has wide professional experience in unfair competition law, advertising, consumer protection, bureaucratic barriers, antitrust, data privacy, intellectual property, and general administrative practice.

She has been a professor at the INDECOPI "School of Competition and Intellectual Property" and is frequently invited to give talks and training sessions by recognized public and private institutions. In addition, she is the author of various publications with local and regional scope.

She is repeatedly included in the reports of prestigious international publications such as Chambers & Partners, The Legal 500 and Leaders League, in which her professional performance is appreciated.

She is a member of the Interamerican Association in Intellectual Property (ASIPPI) Data Protection Committee, and the Lima Bar Association. In addition, she belongs to Women In The Profession (WIP) Peru.

She speaks English and Spanish.